Benefits & Claims*

- 500 mg single oral dose showed rapid immune activation and proliferation in randomized double-blind placebo controlled cross over human clinical study
- Showed progressive activation in the numbers of lymphocytes (NKT cells, NK cells; cytotoxic T cells, $\gamma\delta$ T cells) over a 3-hour period in the blood where the percent changes were found statistically significant against placebo
- Increased activation markers (CD25, CD69 and CD56) on innate & adaptive immune cell populations (monocytes, NK cells, NKT cells, and $\gamma\delta$ T cells) as early as 1 hour post 500 mg oral supplementation. CD25 increase after 1 hour and 2 hours was statistically significant for NKT cells and $\gamma\delta$ T cells, respectively.
